Discussion Was on Resolution Calling on the State Department to Furnish the Senate With a Complete Text of the Treaty—Matter Was Continued Until Monday—Opening Debate Indicates That a Bitter Fight Is to Come Before Ratification—Committee Chairmanships as Announced Shows Lodge Heading the Foreign Relations, With Brandegee Leader of Library Committee.

Washington, May 23.—The peace treaty with its terms of nations covenant was debated for three hours in the senate today, and at adjournment the resolution which furnished the vehicle for the discussion was over an unfinished business to come up again when the senate convenes Monday.

The resolution merely calls on the state department to furnish the senate with the complete text of the treaty, and as the debate progressed discussion shifted to the merits of the league and treaty themselves. A dozen senators, including the leaders on both sides, were drawn into the discussion and sharp exchanges resulted. The bitterness of the fight that is to come when the treaty actually comes up for ratification.

Senator Johnson of California, republican, author of the resolution, started the debate today with a short speech charging that the treaty supporters had "something to conceal."

This assertion drew an indignant reply from Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking democrat of the foreign relations committee, who declared the treaty was following well established precedent in leaving the treaty text in confidence and that for the senate to request him to do otherwise would be a "gross breach of international procedure."

Republican leader Lodge, prospective chairman of the foreign relations committee, replied to Mr. Hitchcock declaring there was no impropriety in his resolution unless it was improper to call attention to the fact that the treaty is not yet a reality.

HINES PLACES STEEL ORDERS UNDER PROTEST

Washington, May 23.—Uniform bids based on the prices agreed upon between representatives of the steel interests and the recently dissolved Industrial board have been submitted by six steel companies in response to the railroad administration's request for bids on open hearth rails.

Director General Hines announced tonight that he had placed orders with these companies for 200,000 tons of rails, but that he had done so "under protest" and with "emphatic disapproval" of the prices and the manner in which they were established.

A uniform price of $47 per ton for open hearth rails, which Director General Hines said was in strict accordance with the prices approved by the industrial board, was submitted to the railroad administration by the Carnegie Steel Company, the Illinois Steel Company and the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company, all subsidiaries of the United States Steel Corporation, and by the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, the Bethlehem Steel Company and the Lackawanna Steel Company.

After his failure to induce representatives of the steel interests at a final conference in New York several weeks ago, to reduce the prices established by the industrial board, the industrial board, Director General Hines announced that in the public interest he would request competitive bids.

Under the anti-trust laws price fixing agreements were illegal and that such agreements might be "brought about through an informal meeting of the kind which has been going on since the industrial board was organized."

Director General Hines in his statement tonight announcing the bids, said that he was not sure that the steel companies in submitting uniform bids "was taken under the leadership of the United States Steel Corporation."

Changed Planes Going at 80 Miles

Lieutenant Locklead Provides Thrilling Spectacle at Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 23.—The joint committee on aerial laws and regulations of air traffic of the second Inter-American Aeronautic Convention presented a report to the convention today urging that congress be asked to create an aircraft board in the department of commerce to be composed of three members to supervise aerial transportation. The report included the text of proposed temporary regulations for the control of aircraft.

A thrilling aerial spectacle was furnished on the flying field today by Lieutenant "Easy" Locklead, who showed how "easy" it was to hop from one airplane to another while the machine was traveling at 80 miles an hour.

Although United States District Attorney Judge Mayer said he believed such action would contribute to a fair settlement of the question raised by the brewers under the emergency prohibition act, the injunction, a temporary one, would be effective, the court said, pending review of his decision by the circuit court of appeals.

"War Beer" Curbed Until Congress Decides

New York, May 23.—Uninterrupted production of "war beer" until the courts have passed upon the claim of the United States Brewers' Association that the beverage, containing 3.4 per cent. alcohol, is non-intoxicating, was assured today when Federal Judge Mayer granted an injunction restraining government interference with its manufacture.

The court declared that his decision had been influenced by President Wilson's message to congress recommending repeal of the war-time prohibition act, insofar as it relates to beer and wine, and the question raised by Hand's ruling last week that the law placed a ban on the manufacture only of liquors that were, in fact, intoxicating.

Although United States District Attorney Judge Mayer said he believed such action would contribute to a fair settlement of the question raised by the brewers under the emergency prohibition act, the injunction, a temporary one, would be effective, the court said, pending review of his decision by the circuit court of appeals.
